SACRAMENTO KINGS

2009-10 MEDIA GUIDE

MEDIA INFORMATION

TO THE MEDIA: Welcome to the 25th season of Kings basketball in Sacramento. The Kings media relations department will do everything possible to assist you in your coverage of the club during the 2009-2010 NBA season. If we can ever be of any assistance, please do not hesitate to call on us. In an effort to continue to provide a professional working environment, we have established the following media guidelines.

CREDENTIALS: Single-game press credentials can be reserved by accredited media members via e-mail (credentials@kingsbball.com) until 48 hours prior to the requested game (no exceptions). Media members covering the Kings on a regular basis will be issued season credentials, but are still required to reserve seating for all games via phone (916-286-3442) to the media relations office by the above mentioned deadline. Credentials will allow working media members entry into ARCO Arena, while also providing reserved press seating, and access to both team locker rooms and the media press room. In all cases, credentials are non-transferable and any unauthorized use will subject the bearer to ejection from ARCO Arena and forfeiture of the credential. All single-game credentials may be picked-up two hours in advance of tip-off at the media check-in table, located at the Southeast security entrance of ARCO Arena.

PRESS ROOM: The Kings press room is located on the Southeast side of ARCO Arena on the operations level and will be opened two hours prior to game time. Admittance/space is limited to working media members with credentials only. The press room will remain open throughout the game and until the last working media member has finished his/her gamenight duties. The professional intent of the press room is to provide a meeting and working place for writers, reporters, broadcasters, and game personnel. Family members and guests will not be admitted in the press room. Any abuse of the press room and/or press privileges will result in forfeiture of your press pass. Television monitors, telephones, internet service, and work space will be provided in the press room.

LOCKER ROOMS: The Kings locker room is located on the East side of the Arena on the operations level. The visitors locker room is located on the West side of the Arena on the operations level. In accordance with NBA policy, both locker rooms will be open up to 45 minutes before game time and 15 minutes after the game. Only those individuals with prominently displayed credentials will gain admittance into the locker rooms. Your cooperation and courtesy is asked in maintaining a proper working atmosphere for postgame interviews.

INTERVIEWS: As stated above, pregame interviews are allowed until 45 minutes prior to game time. Postgame interviews are conducted as follows: Both the Kings Head Coach (in press room) and visiting team coach (at opposing locker room entrance) will address media members approximately 10 minutes after the game, while the players will be made available in their respective locker rooms. Your cooperation and professional courtesy is asked in maintaining a proper working atmosphere for postgame interviews.

TELEVISION/RADIO: Television and radio broadcast positions are located along the scorers' table on the North sideline. The Kings' media relations department will arrange statisticians for all radio and television broadcasters. If statisticians are needed, please contact the media relations department at least 72 hours prior to game time. Once arrangements are made for statisticians, the individual must be paid whether or not they are used. The media relations department will also arrange pregame, halftime, and postgame interviews according to NBA guidelines. Please make arrangements for those interviews as early as possible.

MEDIA SEATING: Reserved media seating has been designated on the scorers' table and in Media Boxes 217, 218, and 221. All seats are reserved and marked with place cards for each individual media member. Seating charts are posted at the media check-in desk and in the press room. Individuals are asked to sit in their pre-assigned seats. Electrical outlets and telephones are placed on press row for your convenience. If a media member is in need of an individual phone, please contact the media relations department for assistance. Statistics and out of town scores will be distributed throughout the game.

PHOTOGRAPHERS: Limited designated spaces are available on each baseline for both still photographers and television camera persons. All photographers are required to pick up photo passes upon arrival at the media check-in desk before entering ARCO Arena. Photographers without photo passes will not be allowed on the arena floor.

MEDIA TICKETS/PARKING: A limited number of game tickets are available to the media from the Kings media relations department. Unfortunately, all requests cannot be honored. There is a limit to the number of tickets allotted each request, and all requests should be made at least three days prior to the requested game. Media members are asked to enter the arena parking area via Toll Plaza 9 and park in Lot K.

SERVICES: A pregame media meal with beverages will be served in the press room. Game notes and a limited number of programs will be available in the press room before the start of the game. In addition, play-by-play sheets, halftime-quarter boxscores, and postgame quotes and notes will be available in the press room following the game. Box scores and play-by-play sheets will be delivered in a prompt manner to press row at the end of each quarter. If there is anything else that we can do to assist your coverage of the Kings this NBA season, please do not hesitate to ask.

MALOOF FAMILY

Maloof Family 11th season as Kings Majority Owner

In 10 years of ownership, the Maloof family has guided the Sacramento Kings and Monarchs as well as ARCO Arena to unparalleled heights. Under the family's leadership, the Kings and Monarchs have advanced to the NBA and WNBA Playoffs, respectively, and produced entertaining basketball that has been seen throughout the world. The Kings have recorded 50-plus regular season victories five times, won back-to-back Pacific Division titles in 2001-02 and 2002-03, and advanced to the 2002 Western Conference Finals. The Monarchs won the 2005 WNBA Championship and were the Western Conference champions in 2006.

Even more impressive than the company's competitive accomplishments has been Maloof Sports & Entertainment's significant impact within the community. The Maloof family's business philosophy strongly incorporates the idea of making a meaningful difference in the lives of families in need and at risk in the Sacramento region by working to advance the cause of literacy in the region through the donation of Kings Reading and Learning Centers. In just 10 years, Maloof Sports and Entertainment has donated and distributed more than $17.7 million to a variety of charitable needs through cash donations and in-kind gifts.

The family's dedication to community service earned Joe and Gavin Maloof the World Sports Humanitarian Hall of Fame's Most Involved Executives award for 2001. In addition, the organization's work was recognized with the Pro Team Humanitarian Award in both 2002 and 2004.

Striving toward the goal of providing complete customer and employee satisfaction, Maloof Sports & Entertainment works under the vision statement of "a championship caliber team of people committed to the highest level of performance, service, quality, innovation, community involvement, and winning relationships."

"Our family lives by two Maloof business philosophies: cater to our customers and take care of our employees," states Joe Maloof. "We have a long-term commitment to our fans and employees that make the entire Sacramento community proud to call this organization their own."

The Kings and Maloof Sports & Entertainment continue to explore ways to enhance the entertainment value of the nearly two million guests who annually enter through the ARCO Arena gateways. In the 2000-2001 operating budget, the company earmarked $1 million for training, services, and equipment designed to improve customer service and satisfaction. The investment paid immediate dividends, as the Kings ranked first in the NBA in overall fan experience in 2001 and 2003 in a league-wide survey conducted every other year by J.D. Powers and Associates.

The Maloofs' strong leadership and innovation in the NBA and WNBA was instrumental in spearheading Las Vegas' successful bid to host the 2007 NBA All-Star Weekend. Having also contributed to promoting several other sports besides basketball, including football, soccer, boxing, horse racing, skateboarding, collegiate athletics, and the mixed martial arts, the Maloof family in 2007 was recognized as one of the 100 Most Influential People in the World of Sports by BusinessWeek. The past two summers, Joe and Gavin Maloof spearheaded an innovative effort in the world of action sports, developing and hosting the Maloof Money Cup. The three-day skateboarding championship and action sports lifestyle festival has played to sold out crowds at the Orange County Fairgrounds in Costa Mesa, Calif., and been broadcast nationally on network television.

Celebrated Return to Professional Sports

The Maloof family's interest in purchasing the Kings, Monarchs, and ARCO Arena originated in 1997 when they contacted then-Managing General Partner Jim Thomas regarding the availability of the teams and arena. On January 14, 1998, the Maloofs completed the purchase of a minority limited partnership in the organization's franchises and ARCO Arena. Although both the Kings and Monarchs suffered through subpar seasons in 1997-98, the Maloofs continued their pursuit of primary ownership and on January 15, 1999, subsequently purchased controlling interest, effective July 1, 1999. The NBA Board of Governors unanimously approved the ownership transfer on May 7, 1999, in New York, at which time the Board of Governors appointed Joe Maloof to the Board. The official closing of the ownership transaction took place on July 1, 1999.

Their purchase of the Kings returned the Maloofs to the NBA after a 17-year absence during which the family eagerly pursued an opportunity to rejoin the league. Owners of the Houston Rockets from 1979 through 1982, the Maloofs watched their Rockets rise to elite status, advancing to the NBA Finals for the first time in the team's history in 1981. In fact, Houston's 1981 Finals appearance coupled with the Kings' advancement to the 2002 Western Conference Finals makes the Maloof family the only ownership group in NBA history to take two different franchises to the Western Conference Finals.

Following the death of their father, George Maloof, Sr., in 1980, Joe and Gavin Maloof, who were only in their mid-20's at the time, took over responsibility for the Rockets along with their mother, Colleen, their two younger brothers, George, Jr. and Phil, and their sister, Adrienne. The added responsibilities of continuing the growth of the family business forced the Maloofs to sell the Rockets in 1982, but George Maloof's original passion for NBA basketball has remained with the family.

"We waited a long time to get back into the NBA. I remember going to the NBA Finals with the Rockets in 1981, and how exciting that was. We have succeeded in bringing that excitement to Sacramento with the Kings and the Monarchs," Gavin Maloof stated.

A 100-Year Model for Diversified Business Success

The Maloof Companies are a diversified group of business ventures including hotels, casinos, banking, food and beverage, and transportation headquartered in Albuquerque, New Mexico and operated in California, Nevada, New Mexico, and Colorado.

In 1994, the family made a $10 million investment in a small piece of property in North Las Vegas, building the quaint 30,000-square foot, 100-room Fiesta Casino Hotel. After a pair of expansive renovations, the 75,000-square foot Fiesta became one of the most profitable hotel casinos per square foot in the entire state of Nevada. In fact, in an August '99 edition of the USA Today, the Fiesta Casino Hotel was voted one of the world's 10 greatest gambling destinations, ranking with the likes of the Bellagio and Caesars Palace in Las Vegas and the Trump Taj Mahal Casino Resort in Atlantic City.

In July of 2000, the Maloof family sold the operating interest in the Fiesta Hotel Casino for over $185 million. The family immediately re-invested the money into the construction of the Palms, originally a $285 million hotel casino just off the Las Vegas strip which opened for business on November 15, 2001. Having grown to three towers and 1,300 guest rooms (including Palms Place) in just eight years, the Palms features outstanding customer service, unique architecture, and award-winning restaurants, entertainment, nightlife, and amenities, becoming the hottest property in Las Vegas with thousands of visitors daily. Anchored by the 2,500-seat, state-of-the-art Pearl concert theatre, the Palms has become an entertainment hotbed having hosted the 2007 MTV Video Music Awards, several World and US movie premiers (including Oceans 13), and numerous high-profile musical and comedy acts. In 2007, the Palms also served as the participant and entertainer hotel for the NBA All-Star Weekend festivities.

In addition to their gaming business, the Maloofs have exclusive proprietorship rights to the distribution of Coors, Miller, Corona, Heineken, Tecate, Boston Beer, and Guinness products throughout New Mexico. The Maloof Companies also is one of the largest single shareholders in Wells Fargo Bank, which operates banks and branches in 23 states throughout the Western United States with over $200 billion in assets and 15 million customers.

The Maloofs continue to expand their business in the entertainment industry with the development of Maloof Productions and Maloof Music. Maloof Productions is committed to developing and producing quality television and motion picture entertainment. The Maloof Music label debuts as a joint venture with Interscope/Geffen/A&M Records, which is the largest record company in the world under the direction of chairman and legendary music mogul Jimmy Iovine. In fact, Maloof Music is the first joint venture with Interscope/Geffen/A&M without a previous music industry background such as an artist, writer, or producer.

"Our family is extremely excited to broaden our entertainment interests through Maloof Productions and Maloof Music. We look forward to producing quality entertainment in television, motion pictures, and music," states Phil Maloof.

Colleen Maloof serves as Chair of the Board of Directors of the Maloof Companies. Joe Maloof is president of the corporation and oversees the banking and sports and entertainment divisions, while Gavin Maloof is vice chairman, also leading the sports and entertainment daily operation. George Maloof, Jr., is an executive vice president and heads the hotel division, and Adrienne Maloof is the secretary/treasurer of the company. Phil Maloof is an executive vice president and the point person for Maloof Productions and Maloof Music.

The Maloof family history in the United States dates back to 1892 when Joe Maloof I opened a small general store in northern New Mexico. By the 1930's, the Maloof family acquired the distribution rights to Coors Beer and subsequently established Quality Imports, a wholesale fine liquor distribution center, in 1937. When Joe Maloof I suffered a major heart attack in 1944, his son, George J. Maloof, left his studies at the University of Colorado to assume responsibility of the Maloof Companies at the age of 21.

George J. Maloof successfully expanded the family business into a group of diversified companies, moving into the hotel and banking sectors in the 1970's. In 1978, responding to his love for sports and competition, Maloof purchased the majority ownership of the Rockets. However, just two years later during the Rockets' rise to the upper echelon of the NBA, Maloof passed away at the age of 57. His wife, Colleen, assumed control of the entire Maloof operation and rather than selling off the company assets, she enlisted the assistance of her five children. Under Colleen Maloof the family expanded their beer and liquor distribution operations and later opened their first gaming property in 1992. From 1990 to 1992 the family also owned the Birmingham Fire of the World League of American Football.

In the 100-plus years that have defined the Maloof Companies, customer service and a strong work ethic combined with energy and vision are the qualities that have built this one-time general store into a business model for diversified success. "From the days of my grandfather's general store to our entire operation now, the Maloof family business philosophy always has been centered around complete customer and employee satisfaction. In Sacramento, the fans are our customers and providing a great experience for them is our goal," says Gavin Maloof.

JOE MALOOF

Joseph Maloof is President of the Maloof Companies. Joe's business expertise and leadership qualities have helped enhance and diversify the corporation's growth since his father's death in 1980.

Joe manages the Maloof Companies' nearly 3,500 employees with an open door policy, much like his father did 30 years ago. He also believes in treating customers in a first-class manner and with the utmost respect, and is often seen talking and listening to the fans and customers of the various family businesses.

"My father's business philosophy of taking care of our customers and employees was successful long ago, and all of us in the family have chosen to manage with that same style," states Joe.

His extensive expertise in management, sales, and marketing has been invaluable during the company's expansion into banking, hotels, and gaming over the past 25 years. He currently serves on the Board of the Coors Distributor Council. In May of 1999, he was appointed to the NBA Board of Governors by Commissioner David Stern after the Maloof family was unanimously approved by the Board to assume controlling interest of the Kings.

Like all of his family, Joe's charitable efforts are an important aspect of his personal and professional life. He has assisted countless community service groups through the years, including the Boys Club, the University of New Mexico, the American GI Forum, the Airport Little League, and the League of Latin American Citizens, to name just a few.

He has a passion for competition, stemming from his days as a prep and collegiate athlete. He was MVP of his high school basketball team at Lawrenceville Prep School (Lawrenceville, N.J.), and was a two-time letterwinner as a defensive back at the University of New Mexico, where he graduated in 1979 with a degree in business.

GAVIN MALOOF

As Vice Chairman of Maloof Companies, Gavin Maloof assists in all aspects of the family's diversified business ventures while overseeing the company's sports and entertainment operation. He is dedicated to maintaining and building the corporation's national and international prominence and spearheading a new era of growth for the company.

Although Gavin is relatively young in terms of professional sports and entertainment ownership, his experience is extensive. Following the death of his father, George J. Maloof, Sr., in 1980, Gavin was named president of the Houston Rockets at the age of 24, making him the youngest owner and operator in major professional sports history. The Rockets enjoyed immediate success under Gavin's leadership, advancing to the NBA Finals for the first time in franchise history in 1981. With the likes of Moses Malone, Calvin Murphy, and Elvin Hayes, the Rockets qualified for postseason play in all three seasons under the Maloof family ownership.

In addition to his front office management with the Rockets, Gavin also served as team president during the Maloof's tenure as owners of the Birmingham Fire of the World League of American Football (WLAF) from 1990-92.

Gavin has always placed an importance on his community service work. Over the years he has served on the board of directors for several charitable causes, including those focusing on the well-being of children.

An active sports fan and participant, Gavin was an outstanding football player at the New Mexico Military Institute in Roswell, N.M., and at Trinity University in San Antonio. He graduated from Trinity in 1979 with a speech and communications degree. Last year he was inducted into the New Mexico Military Institute Hall of Fame as one of the school's most successful graduates, an honor bestowed on only a handful of people in the school's long history.

DID YOU KNOW ... The family's dedication to community service earned Joe and Gavin Maloof the World Sports Humanitarian Hall of Fame's Most Involved Executives award for 2001. In addition, the organization's work was recognized with the Pro Team Humanitarian Award in both 2002 and 2004.

COLLEEN J. MALOOF

Chair of the Board, Maloof Companies
Trustee for the Estate of George J. Maloof

Colleen J. Maloof is chair of the board of the Maloof Companies and trustee for the estate of George J. Maloof. Throughout the key years that George Maloof built the Maloof Companies into the largest group of family-owned enterprises in New Mexico, Colleen was an instrumental partner in their prosperity. Faced with the challenge of carrying on the family tradition of success after her husband's passing, she has grown the Maloof Companies as never before.

Colleen Maloof is a major force behind the family's continued strength and the Maloof's corporate and civic leadership. She is a leader in her community and has received a number of honors and awards, including the Associated Students of University of New Mexico Award for Dedication and Service, Mexican-American Foundation of America Women of the Year Award, and the Image de Albuquerque Award, which was presented to the Maloof family for their significant contributions to Hispanic business development.

Colleen has played a pivotal role in developing the "Maloof style" managerial skills of her children, Joe, Gavin, George Jr., Phil, and Adrienne. She has worked to ensure that company policies and practices remain true to the family motto, "The Customer is King."

GEORGE MALOOF

Adhering to his father's policy of learning the family business "from the ground up," George J. Maloof, Jr. has successfully established himself as an innovator in the hotel and gaming industries.

George is the leading force behind the building and operation of the hottest property in Las Vegas, the Palms, which is owned by the Maloof family, and has become one of the most sought-after destinations in the entertainment capital of the world.

As President of Maloof Hotels since 1989, George has overseen the operation of hotels throughout the Southwest and California, including the Fiesta Casino Hotel in Las Vegas, the Central Palace Casino in Central City, Colorado, and the Palms.

George has very strong ties to the Las Vegas community. He is a UNLV alumnus, where he received his bachelor's degree in business administration (hotel management) in 1987.

In addition to his work in the gaming industry, George is also a member of the Patriarchal Order of the Holy Cross of Jerusalem and the Las Vegas Chapter of Legatus.

ADRIENNE MALOOF-NASSIF

Whether it's marketing, fashion design, promotion, or politics, Adrienne Maloof-Nassif is involved in all aspects as well as the overall leadership of the Maloof Companies.

Adrienne's marketing and promotional contributions have been invaluable in the Sacramento Kings becoming one of the most recognizable franchises in all of professional sports. In addition, her lifelong interest in competitive professional dancing has allowed her to lend her expertise to the Kings' widely popular dance team.

Philanthropic work also is a personal passion for Adrienne. Because of her love and concern for animals and children, Adrienne has joined forces with the Sacramento SPCA to serve as an honorary spokesperson. Her financial contributions allowed the SPCA to complete a new shelter in February of 2002 and develop the Adrienne Maloof Camp Kindness program, which allows underprivileged youth to learn the proper care and handling of animals. Her Camp Kindness program was so successful in Sacramento that she is currently in the process of developing a similar program for the Los Angeles SPCA.

Growing up in Albuquerque, New Mexico, she was one of the country's top ranked junior tennis players and went on to play collegiate tennis at the University of New Mexico, where she earned a bachelor's degree in political science.

PHIL MALOOF

Phil Maloof is an executive vice president with Maloof Companies and the point person for the family's newest business ventures, Maloof Productions and Maloof Music.

A former senator for the state of New Mexico, Phil was one of the youngest elected officials in the country, appointed to the New Mexico State Senate following the election of Mayor Martin Chavez, and subsequently re-elected to a full four-year term from his west Albuquerque district in 1996, before running for U.S. Congress in 2000.

Phil was known for his tough stance on crime while representing New Mexico, becoming the first state senator in the country to sponsor the Three Strikes, You're Out law, in addition to helping pass several bills aimed at improving school funding.

An outstanding all-around athlete, Phil played quarterback collegiately at New Mexico State, before earning his post-secondary degree from the University of New Mexico.

Phil resides in Las Vegas and Los Angeles, where he works to develop Maloof Productions and the Maloof Music label. In addition, he assists in the other Maloof family businesses, including the Sacramento Kings and the Palms hotel and casino property. He enjoys playing basketball and traveling in his spare time.

GEOFF PETRIE

President, Basketball Operations

A two-time NBA Executive of the Year award winner, Geoff Petrie has been the key figure behind the success of the Sacramento Kings over the past 16 years.

Under Petrie's direction, the Kings have qualified for the NBA Playoffs in eight of the past 11 campaigns and nine of the past 14 years overall, while winning Pacific Division titles in 2001-02 and 2002-03 and advancing to the 2002 Western Conference Finals. Between 2000-01 and 2004-05, Sacramento joined San Antonio and Dallas as the only teams in the league to register 50-plus wins in each of those years.

When Petrie was named The Sporting News NBA Executive of the Year following the 1998-99 campaign, he became the first person to win both the league's executive and rookie annual awards. Petrie shared the 1971 NBA Rookie of the Year award with Boston's Dave Cowens. Following the 2000-01 season, Petrie was named The Sporting News Executive of the Year for a second time.

Petrie oversees all aspects of the Kings' basketball operations department, including the coaching and scouting staffs, team negotiations and player acquisitions. He also serves as the main basketball liaison between the Kings, the NBA and the league's 29 other teams.

Petrie's eye for talent has been indisputable. He is forever trying to find ways to strengthen the Kings, evidenced by his moves over the last 16 years.

Petrie's re-working of the Kings' roster has come via all avenues of player acquisition. His first-round draft choices have included current Kings Tyreke Evans (2009, #4), Omri Casspi (2009, #23), Jason Thompson (2008, #12), Spencer Hawes (2007, #10), Francisco Garcia (2005, #23) and Kevin Martin (2004, #26), as well as former Kings players Peja Stojakovic (1996, #14), Corliss Williamson (1995, #13), Gerald Wallace (2001, #25), Brian Grant (1994, #8), Tariq Abdul-Wahad (1997, #11), Jason Williams (1998, #7), and Hedo Turkoglu (2000, #16) and Quincy Douby (2006, #19). Meanwhile, his second-round draft selections also have proven to be productive, including Lawrence Funderburke (1994, #51), Michael Smith (1994, #35), Anthony Johnson (1997 #40 overall) and Jerome James (1998, #36 overall) each of whom played at least six NBA seasons.

Petrie also has consummated well over 30 player trades since 1994, highlighted by the 1998 deal, which landed All-Star forward Chris Webber. Additionally, former Kings Mike Bibby, Doug Christie and Brad Miller were also acquired through trades. Of the Kings' current roster, Donte Greene, Jon Brockman, and Sergio Rodriguez arrived in Sacramento via trade.

Petrie has had an enormous amount of success in acquiring players through free agency with the likes of former Kings Vlade Divac, Jon Barry, Vernon Maxwell, Scot Pollard, Jim Jackson, Shareef Abdur-Rahim, Ron Artest and John Salmons. Not only has he exhibited keen skills in bringing in talented players via the draft and free agent signings, Petrie also has achieved success in keeping key players for the future, evidenced by extending the contracts of Martin and Garcia and the re-signing of Beno Udrih to a multi-year pact.

Petrie was the first-ever selection of the Portland Trail Blazers in the 1970 NBA Draft (#8 overall), prior to the club's inaugural NBA campaign. In his first season as a professional, he posted Portland team highs in scoring (24.8 ppg), field goals made (784) and attempted (1,770), free throws made (463) and attempted (600) and assists (4.8 apg).

Petrie's scoring average remains the highest ever by a Portland rookie, while his single-season point total (2,031 pts.) made him one of just eight players in NBA history to surpass the 2,000-point plateau in his rookie campaign. Oscar Robertson and Michael Jordan were the only other guards to achieve the feat (also Wilt Chamberlain, Walt Bellamy, Rick Barry, Elvin Hayes and Kareem Abdul-Jabbar).

Petrie was a two-time All-Star (1971, 1974) and winner of the NBA's 1973 One-on-One tournament, defeating the likes of Gail Goodrich and Bob McAdoo. He still holds Portland single-game records for most field goals attempted (37) and most free throws made (18). He currently ranks sixth on the Trail Blazers' all-time career list in points (9,732), fifth in assists (2,057) and third and fifth, respectively, in field goals attempted (8,719) and made (3,970). A knee injury suffered in his sixth NBA season (1975-76) ended his professional playing career in which he registered averages of 21.8 points, 2.8 rebounds and 4.6 assists per game. His Trail Blazers jersey (#45) was retired by Portland in 1981.

Following his retirement, Petrie worked in private business and beginning in 1984-85 in various roles within the Trail Blazers' front office, culminated by a four-year tenure as the team's senior vice president of operations. He was instrumental in the building of a Portland team that qualified for the 1990 and 1992 NBA Finals, which included the likes of Clyde Drexler, Buck Williams, Jerome Kersey and Terry Porter.

A 1970 graduate of Princeton University, Petrie earned consecutive All-East and All-Ivy League honors following each of his final two collegiate seasons under legendary Tigers head coach and former Kings' Assistant Coach Pete Carril. The team captain as a senior, Petrie ranks seventh on the school's all-time scoring list (1,321 pts.) and fourth among career scoring average leaders (19.9 ppg).

Petrie and his wife, Anne-Marie, reside in Sacramento. He has three children, son, Mike and twin daughters, Anne-Marie and Susanne and three grandsons, Preston, Griffin, and Palmer. Petrie enjoys working out, playing golf and tennis and playing guitar in his spare time.

BASKETBALL OPERATIONS

WAYNE COOPER

Vice President, Basketball Operations

Wayne Cooper is entering his 32nd year in the NBA and his 16th with the Sacramento Kings organization. Cooper has served as the club's vice president, basketball operations since July of 1996. He was promoted to his current position after working two seasons as the club's director of basketball services/assistant coach. He came to Sacramento in July of 1994 following two campaigns in the Portland Trail Blazers' front office.

Cooper helps oversee the day-to-day operation of the Kings' basketball operations department under the direct guidance of President, Basketball Operations Geoff Petrie. In addition to scouting collegiate, professional and international talent, he is in charge of preseason scheduling and overseeing the club's collegiate player data base.

Cooper enjoyed a 14-year playing career in the NBA after being selected by the Golden State Warriors in the second round (#40 overall) of the 1978 NBA Draft. During his professional playing career, Cooper served stints in Golden State (1978-80), Utah (1980-81), Dallas (1981-82), Portland (1982-84 and 1989-92) and Denver (1984-89), posting career averages of 7.9 points, 6.2 rebounds and 1.56 blocks per game.

Cooper played collegiately at the University of New Orleans (1974-78) under Head Coach Butch Van Breda Kolff, earning 1978 Sun Belt Conference Player of the Year honors after averaging 18.1 points and a conference-high 12.7 rebounds during his senior campaign. He finished his career as the No. 2 shot blocker (183) and third-leading rebounder (920) in school history. He was inducted into the UNO Hall of Fame in 1988 and the Louisiana Association of Basketball Coaches Hall of Fame in 1992. Cooper was listed among Sports Illustrated's Top 101 Most Influential Minorities in Sports in 2003 and 2004.

He and his wife, Denise, live in Granite Bay and have three daughters, Lauren, Andrea and Courtney.

JASON LEVIEN

Team General Counsel/Assistant General Manager

Jason Levien enters his second season with the Kings as team general counsel/assistant general manager. Levien's primary responsibilities include drafting and management of players, coaching and management contracts, assisting in salary cap planning and analysis and overseeing team compliance with all NBA rules and procedures. He also assists in scouting while reporting directly to President of Basketball Operations Geoff Petrie and Vice President of Basketball Operations Wayne Cooper.

Levien, a former NBA player agent, represented more than a dozen NBA players over the past decade, guiding his clients through their careers which included navigating the NBA Draft process, free agency and contract negotiations. His clients included Luol Deng (Chicago Bulls), Udonis Haslem (Miami Heat) and the Kings' Kevin Martin.

Having traveled the globe evaluating basketball talent, Levien represented a number of international players drafted into the NBA and professional basketball players in more than 15 countries. He developed a reputation for finding talented players that were either overlooked or flew under the radar.

Levien has also spent time working in politics, including serving as the speechwriter for the Keynote Address at the 2000 Democratic National Convention and in The White House.

Levien is a graduate of Pomona College in Claremont, where he was a member of the basketball team. He served as an editor of the Michigan Law Review while earning his law degree and master's in public policy from the University of Michigan. Levien was later awarded a fellowship at Harvard Law School.

L TO R: GEOFF PETRIE, PAUL WESTPHAL, GAVIN MALOOF, AND JOE MALOOF

DID YOU KNOW ... Geoff Petrie is the first person in NBA history to win both The Sporting News Executive of the Year (1998-99 and 2000-01) and NBA Rookie of the Year (1970-71) awards.

PAUL WESTPHAL

Head Coach

Paul Westphal begins his first year as the head coach of the Sacramento Kings, becoming the 23rd head coach in Kings' franchise history. Westphal brings 22 years of coaching experience at both the professional and collegiate levels to the Kings bench. He spent last season (2008-09) as the executive vice president of basketball operations for the Dallas Mavericks after spending the previous campaign as an assistant coach for the Mavericks (2007-08).

Westphal's NBA coaching experience began nearly five years after his career as a player in the league ended. He coached one season at Phoenix's Southwestern Baptist Bible College and two seasons at Grand Canyon College, guiding them to the 1988 NAIA National Championship. In 1988, Westphal joined the Suns' bench as an assistant coach and four years later, in 1992, the California native became the franchise's head coach. As head coach, he led the Suns to three of their most successful seasons. In 1992-93, he became the winningest (.756) rookie head coach in NBA history as the Suns clinched the Pacific Division title, won a franchise-record 62 games and made their second appearance in the NBA Finals. In 1995, Westphal became the second-fastest coach to reach 150 wins, accomplishing the feat in just 208 games and just five shy of the mark set by Phil Jackson. The Suns surpassed the 55-win mark in each of Westphal's three seasons.

Westphal remained in Phoenix as the assistant coach to Terry Kearney at Chaparral High School to see his son, Michael, to graduation. He returned to the NBA coaching ranks in the lockout-shortened 1998-99 campaign, leading the Sonics to a 25-25 record. The following season, Seattle posted a 45-37 record and made the playoffs, losing 3-2 to the Utah Jazz in a first round series.

Prior to joining the Mavericks, Westphal served as the head men's basketball coach at Pepperdine University from 2001 to 2006. During his five seasons at Pepperdine, Westphal guided the Waves to an overall 76-72 mark (.514), including a 38-32 (.543) record in West Coast Conference (WCC) play. During the 2001-02 season, the Waves enjoyed a 22-9 record, a share of the WCC title and an at-large berth in the NCAA Tournament.

Westphal began his NBA career when he was a 1972 first-round (10th overall pick) draft choice of the Boston Celtics after graduating from USC. His NBA career spanned 12 seasons, which included stints with Boston, Phoenix, New York and Seattle. He earned a 1974 championship ring with the Celtics and played for Phoenix in the 1976 NBA Finals. In Game 5 of the 1976 Finals, against his old team the Celtics, Westphal's innovative idea to call a timeout when Phoenix didn't have any helped set up the game-tying play to force a third overtime.

During the 1982-83 season, while playing for the New York Knicks, Westphal was named the NBA Comeback Player of the Year after recovering from two surgeries for a broken foot that shortened his two previous seasons.

A five-time All-Star (four with Phoenix and once with Seattle), Westphal's career ended with Phoenix in 1983 after he scored 12,809 points(15.6 ppg), grabbed 1,580 rebounds (1.9 rpg), delivered 3,591 assists (4.4 apg) and came up with 1,022 steals (1.2 spg) in 823 career games. He also was named to the All-NBA First Team three times (1976-77, 1978-79, 1979-80) and All-NBA Second Team once (1977-78). Westphal scored 9,564 points as a member of the Suns and his No. 44 jersey was retired by the franchise on April 15, 1989.

Born in Torrance, Calif., Westphal was the 1968 California Interscholastic Federation Player of the Year as a senior playing for Aviation High School in Redondo Beach. After graduating from Aviation, Westphal played three seasons at USC (freshmen weren't allowed to play on the varsity), earning All-Pac-10 honors in all three, including two First Team selections. He helped lead the Trojans to a 24-2 mark in 1971. USC retired Westphal's jersey number 25 and he was inducted into their Athletic Hall of Fame on May 17, 1997. The Pac-10 also honored Westphal, electing him to the Pac-10 Hall of Honor on March 15, 2008.

Westphal and his wife of 37 years, Cindy, have two grown children. Victoria (Mrs. Branden Higa) and Michael (who recently married the former Leanne Duckgeischel). They have one grandchild, Kai Higa.

JIM EYEN

Assistant Coach

Entering his first season with the Kings as an assistant coach is Jim Eyen. An 18-year veteran NBA assistant coach, Eyen spent the past six seasons as an assistant coach for the Los Angeles Clippers. With 30 years of coaching experience under his belt, Eyen originally began his career with the Clippers in 1988 when he served as an assistant coach under then head coach Don Casey. The following season, he moved to the Lakers, assisting Pat Riley and was retained when Mike Dunleavy was named Lakers' head coach in 1990. After three seasons with the Lakers, Eyen followed Dunleavy to Milwaukee, where he remained through 1996.

In 1997, Eyen again joined Dunleavy, only this time in Portland, where he worked as an assistant through the 2000-01 campaign. When Dunleavy was named head coach of the Clippers prior to the 2003-04 season, he again asked Eyen to join him as the team's lead assistant.

Eyen also served as acting head coach on April 12, 2005, guiding the Clippers to a 94-85 victory over the Utah Jazz at STAPLES Center while Dunleavy was away from the team for personal reasons.

Eyen began his coaching career as an assistant coach at Santa Barbara City College in 1979 where he helped lead the Vaqueros to the state tournament three consecutive years. In 1982, Eyen was named head coach of Dos Pueblos High School in Goleta, Calif., and led his team to the 1984 CIF playoffs as well as coaching the county all-star team. Prior to joining the Clippers' bench in 1988, Eyen served as an assistant for his alma mater, the University of California at Santa Barbara for four seasons, helping the Gauchos earn their first-ever trip to the NCAA Tournament.

Eyen's basketball interests also extend internationally. He has served as a consultant to clubs in the Netherlands, Germany and Japan, where in 1996 he worked with the Japanese National Team.

Eyen received a bachelor's degree in Communications Studies from UCSB in 1979, where he also played basketball. He earned a master's degree in Education from Azusa Pacific University in 1984.

Eyen and his wife, Britt, have two children, Joe and Lena, and a dog, Willy.

MARIO ELIE

Assistant Coach

Mario Elie begins his first season as an assistant coach for the Kings. He is a 11-year NBA veteran who spent the past two campaigns as an assistant coach for the Dallas Mavericks. During the 2006-07 season, Elie served as a pre- and post-game host for the Houston Rockets' FOX Sports Net telecasts after serving as an assistant coach for the Golden State Warriors for two seasons (2004-05 & 2005-06). Prior to joining the Warriors coaching staff, he spent the 2003-04 season as an assistant coach with the San Antonio Spurs.

Elie enjoyed a successful NBA playing career averaging 8.6 points, 2.8 rebounds and 2.6 assists in 732 regular season games with Golden State, Philadelphia, Portland, Houston, San Antonio and Phoenix. He also played in 116 career playoff contests, winning three NBA Championships with Houston (1994 & 1995) and San Antonio (1999).

A native of New York City, Elie enjoyed some of his finest playing moments as a member of the Houston Rockets. He started all four games of the 1995 NBA Finals against Orlando, averaging 16.3 points, 4.3 rebounds and 3.3 assists en route to winning his second consecutive title. Additionally, his best individual season came in 1996-97, when he averaged 11.7 points, 3.0 rebounds and 4.0 assists in 78 games for the Rockets. In 1998, he was named to the Rockets 30-Year Team as one of the top 10 players in club history.

After being drafted in the seventh round by the Milwaukee Bucks (160th overall pick) in 1985 out of American International College – a Division II school in Springfield, Mass. – Elie played in Portugal, Argentina, Ireland, the USBL, the WBL and the CBA before making his NBA debut with the Philadelphia 76ers in December 1990. After appearing in three games for the 76ers, Elie signed a 10-day contract with Golden State on Feb. 23, 1991. Five days later, he signed a contract with the Warriors through the end of the following season.

Elie and his wife, Gina, are the parents of triplets, Gaston, Glenn and Lauren. Gina is a television personality who has most recently worked as a national correspondent for MSNBC and as a nightly news anchor for KTRK-TV in Houston. Elie, who earned a degree in human relations, speaks Spanish, Portuguese and French.

DID YOU KNOW ... Kings Head Coach Paul Westphal coached current Sacramento Mayor Kevin Johnson for four seasons (1992-93 - 1995-96) in Phoenix and also coached Hall of Famers Charles Barkley and Patrick Ewing.

LEONARD "TRUCK" ROBINSON

Assistant Coach

Leonard “Truck” Robinson enters his first season with the Kings as an assistant coach after spending last season as a scout for the Washington Wizards. Though Robinson has never before coached in the NBA, having worked with a number of NBA players and teams over the years, he has been regarded as a specialist in working with big men and has been active in scouting and Big Man training.

Known for his tenacious rebounding and offensive firepower as a player, standing at only 6-7, Robinson, an 11-year NBA veteran, averaged 15.5 points and 9.4 rebounds per game over 772 contests with Washington (1974-77), Atlanta (1977), New Orleans (1977-79), Phoenix (1979-82) and New York (1982-85).

A two-time NBA All-Star (1978 and 1981) and an All-NBA First Team selection (1978), Robinson led the NBA in rebounding in the 1977-78 season, grabbing 15.7 boards per contest, becoming the first true forward to lead the league in that category in 20 years. He helped the Bullets win the 1975 NBA Eastern Conference and was an integral player for Phoenix when the Suns won the 1981 Pacific Division. He led the NBA in minutes played (3,638), rebounds (1,288), defensive rebounds (990), and rebounds per game (15.7) during the 1977-78 season.

Robinson was selected in the second round of the 1974 NBA Draft by the Washington Bullets out of Tennessee State University.

In his 11 NBA seasons, Robinson amassed 11,988 points and 7,267 rebounds.

PETE CARRIL

Assistant Coach

Pete Carril returns to the Kings’ coaching staff as an assistant coach after spending last season as a basketball consultant. One of the most respected men in basketball, Carril enters his 12th overall campaign with the Kings. He spent nine years as an assistant coach (1996-97 to 2005-06). Carril departed the bench for the 2002-03 season, taking on a new title and new role as special assistant to president, basketball operations. However, the coach in him won out as did the Kings, as Carril resumed his daily coaching duties with the club the following season (2003-04) through the 2005-06 campaign.

In a crowning achievement to his legendary collegiate coaching career, Carril was rewarded with an induction into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame on September 29, 1997. After coaching 30 years in the NCAA ranks, Carril joined the Kings prior to the 1996-97 campaign. His addition to the Kings’ coaching staff reunited him with Petrie, whom he coached at Princeton from 1968-70.

The winningest coach in Ivy League history (525-273, .658 winning percentage), Carril's career at Princeton included 13 conference titles, 11 NCAA Tournament appearances, and just one losing season. Prior to his retirement following the 1996 NCAA Tournament, he was the only active NCAA Division I head coach to reach the 500-victory plateau without athletic scholarships.

In his final season as head coach at Princeton, he led the Tigers to the Ivy League Championship with a 22-7 record. In one of the most thrilling moments of the 1996 NCAA Tournament, Carril's Tigers upset defending champion UCLA in the first round, 43-41, on a signature Carril-designed backdoor layup with only 3.8 seconds remaining in the game.

Carril played collegiately at Lafayette College under Head Coach Butch Van Breda Kolff. Following his graduation from Lafayette in 1952, Carril began his coaching career at the high school level where he stayed for 12 years. He went on to become head coach at Lehigh University for one season before beginning his stay at Princeton in 1967.

Carril is the proud father of two children, son Peter and daughter Lisa, as well as two grandchildren. He enjoys going on long walks and playing tennis.

DID YOU KNOW ... On February 21, 2009, Princeton University named the game floor of Jadwin Gym "Carril Court" in honor of Kings Assistant Coach Pete Carril, who coached at Princeton for 29 seasons (1967-68 - 1995-96).

SHAREEF ABDUR-RAHIM

Assistant Coach

Shareef Abdur-Rahim begins his second season as an assistant coach for the Kings, upon recently retiring a 12-year NBA career as a player due to a recurring knee injury. In his new role, one of his main responsibilities is to work extensively with frontcourt players.

2008-09 KINGS TIMELINE

Oct. 8 - Kings waive free agent forward Zhang Kai.

Oct. 21 - Kings waive forwards Noel Felix and Bobby Jones.

Oct. 29 at Minnesota - Rookie Jason Thompson becomes the first Kings player to record a double-double (18 points, 10 rebounds) in his NBA debut since the team moved to Sacramento. The last Kings player to record a double-double in their first professional game was Jerry Lucas (23 points, 17 rebounds) in 1963.

Spencer Hawes records a career-high six blocks, setting a new mark for blocks by a King on opening night. The previous record was five shared by Keon Clark (2002) and Rodney McCray (1989).

Nov. 5 vs. Memphis - Kevin Martin scores 33 points, matching Reggie Theus' record for most points scored by a Kings player in the home opener in the Sacramento era.

Dec. 6 vs. Denver - Jason Thompson grabs 10 offensive rebounds, setting a new single-game record for a rookie, passing the nine Michael Stewart grabbed twice in his rookie campaign (12/22/97 and 1/12/98).

Dec. 15 vs. Minnesota - With the 118-103 win, Kenny Natt becomes the first head coach to win in his debut since Eddie Jordan did during the 1996-97 season. Coincidentally, that was the last time the Kings made a midseason coaching change as Jordan replaced Garry St. Jean for the final 15 games.

Dec. 28 vs. Boston - The Kings suffer their worst home loss in franchise history, 108-63, as the Celtics held the Kings to their lowest point total in the Sacramento era. The 45-point defeat is the largest margin of defeat at home in franchise history and the fifth-worst loss in the Sacramento era.

Jan. 3 at Indiana - Kevin Martin scores 45 points coming off the bench, setting a new Sacramento-era record for most points off the bench, passing Walt Williams' 40 points (1/2/93 vs. Philadelphia).

Jan. 5 - Rider University retires the uniform number of Kings Rookie Jason Thompson prior to the men's basketball game against Marist College. Thompson's number one jersey becomes just the fifth uniform number to be retired at Rider.

Jan. 8 - Pete Carril returns to the organization as a Basketball Development Consultant.

Jan. 13 vs. Orlando - The Magic hits an NBA record 23 three-pointers en route to a 139-107 win over the Kings at ARCO Arena. The Magic also sets an ARCO Arena and Kings opponent record with 13 three-pointers in the first half.

Feb. 2 at Phoenix - The Kings suffer their worst loss of the season, a 48-point defeat (81-129). The 48-point loss is the fourth worst in the history of franchise.

Feb. 6 vs. Utah - At halftime the Kings retire Chris Webber's jersey number.

Feb. 17 - Kings acquire guard Sam Cassell and cash considerations from Boston in exchange for a conditional 2nd round pick in 2015.

Feb. 18 - Kings acquire Drew Gooden, Andres Nocioni, Cedric Simmons and Ike Diogu in a three-team trade that sent Brad Miller and John Salmons to Chicago and Michael Ruffin to the Portland.

Feb. 19 - Kings acquire guard Rashad McCants and center Calvin Booth from the Minnesota in exchange for forward Shelden Williams and guard Bobby Brown.

Kings acquire guard Will Solomon from the Toronto Raptors and cash considerations from Boston in a three-team trade that sent Boston's Patrick O'Bryant to Toronto and a protected Kings' second round pick in 2014 to Boston.

Kings waive forward Mikki Moore.

Feb. 21 - Princeton University names the game floor of Jadwin Gym "Carril Court" in honor of former Kings assistant coach and current Basketball Development Consultant Pete Carril.

Feb. 23 vs. New Orleans - Kevin Martin scores 24 points (7-10 FG, 3-6 3pt, 7-8 FT) in the fourth quarter to set a Sacramento-era record for most points in a quarter, surpassing Mitch Richmond and Dale Ellis' 22 points.

Mar. 20 at New York - Kevin Martin makes his 400th free throw of the season, becoming the fourth Kings player in franchise history to record three or more consecutive seasons with 400 or more free throws made. Martin joins Mitch Richmond, Oscar Robertson and Jack Twyman.

Apr. 8 - Kings waive guard Will Solomon.

Apr. 15 at Minnesota - Jason Thompson plays in his 82nd game, becoming just the second Kings rookie in the Sacramento era to play every game in a season (Michael Smith, 1994-95). FRANCHISE HISTORY

HISTORY OF OWNERSHIP

The Sacramento Kings begin their 11th season under the ownership efforts of the Maloof family, which took over control of the Kings and ARCO Arena on July 1, 1999. The Maloofs succeeded Jim Thomas, who had owned the franchise since April 6, 1992.

The Maloof family's interest in purchasing the Kings, Monarchs (WNBA) and ARCO Arena originated in 1997 when they contacted Thomas regarding the availability of the teams and arena. On January 14, 1998, the Maloofs completed the purchase of a minority limited partnership in the organization's franchises and ARCO Arena. On January 15, 1999, the Maloofs subsequently purchased controlling interest, effective July 1, 1999. The NBA Board of Governors unanimously approved the ownership transfer on May 7, 1999, in New York, at which time the Board of Governors appointed Joe Maloof to the Board.

The Kings franchise made its NBA debut in 1948 as the Rochester Royals under the ownership of Les Harrison. Harrison also served as the club's head coach for the first seven seasons, and in 1951 he guided the Royals to the first and only NBA World Championship title in franchise history. The team was moved to Cincinnati in 1957 where one year later it became a public corporation. In 1966, brothers Max and Jeremy Jacobs purchased the club and maintained ownership through the team's move to Kansas City in 1972-73.

LES HARRISON

A group of 10 Kansas City-based businessmen purchased the club in 1973 for an excess of $5 million. The same group held proprietorship through May of 1982 when ownership was restructured so that only three partners remained, Leon Karosen, H. Paul Rosenberg, and Robert J. Margolin. Three months later, three New York-based businessmen joined the Kansas City ownership group.

On June 8, 1983, the Kings were sold to a local business group that is responsible for bringing NBA basketball to the Capitol City, as Joseph Benvenuti, Frank and Gregg Lukenbill, Bob A. Cook, Frank McCormick, and Stephen H. Cippa purchased the Kansas City Kings for approximately $10.5 million. In January of 1985, the group petitioned the NBA Board of Governors for permission to move the franchise to Sacramento. Nine months later, the Kings' Sacramento-era began as the club played its first-ever contest before a sold out crowd at the temporary ARCO Arena site.

Twenty-five NBA seasons later, the club continues to play before large crowds in an ARCO Arena building constructed by the Lukenbill-Benvenuti ownership group.

NICKNAME & LOGO TRANSITION

The Rochester National Basketball League franchise was originally nicknamed the Royals in 1946 after 15-year-old Richard Paeth's entry beat out 500 other suggestions in a name the team contest. For his winning entry, Paeth, a native of Rochester, received a $100 Victory Bond from team president/manager Les Harrison. When the franchise moved to Cincinnati before the 1957-58 campaign, the ownership decided to maintain the Royals moniker. However, when the franchise moved to Kansas City prior to the 1972-73 season, it needed a new nickname because the name Royals was already being used by the city's Major League Baseball team. Wanting to keep the "Royal" theme, the club decided on the nickname of Kings.

On May 22, 1994, the Sacramento Kings unveiled the franchise's current primary logo, home and road uniforms, and team colors. The changes marked the first major alteration from the crown and ball logo which had been the franchise's trademark since the club resided in Cincinnati. Following is a chronological look at the evolution of the Kings' primary logo over the franchise's 60-year history:

Team Notes

- On November 8, 1988, the long awaited debut of ARCO Arena II became a reality when the Kings hosted the Seattle SuperSonics, losing 97-75 before a sold-out crowd of 16,517. NBA Commissioner David Stern participated in the dedication cermony.
- Midway through the fourth quarter of the Kings-Trail Blazers contest on December 27, 1988, Head Coach Jerry Reynolds collapsed on the sidelines. He lay unconscious for several minutes before doctors revived him and immediately transported him to Sutter Memorial Hospital for further observation. Doctors dismissed cardiac problems, diagnosing the cause of the fainting and dizziness due to a sudden postural change. Reynolds missed the following night's game in Utah, but returned to practice two days later.
- On February 20, 1989, the Kings acquired Indiana forward Wayman Tisdale and the Pacers' 1990 second-round draft choice in exchange for forward LaSalle Thompson and guard Randy Wittman.
- On May 21, 1989, Sacramento won the NBA Lottery's grand prize by receiving the first overall pick in the 1989 NBA Draft. Approximately one month later (June 27), the Kings selected 6-10 Louisville center Pervis Ellison with the No. 1 choice.

Team Notes

- On August 14, 1989, guard Ricky Berry was found dead in his home from a self-inflicted gunshot wound, just months after the conclusion of a rookie campaign in which he averaged 11.0 ppg, 3.1 rpg, and 1.3 apg.
- Managing General Partner Gregg Lukenbill announced a reorganization of the club's management and basketball staff on December 19, 1990. Executive Vice President of Business Operations Rick Benner was named president of the Kings and ARCO Arena. Head Coach Jerry Reynolds assumed the position of director of player personnel and would eventually relinquish his coaching position. Bill Russell was released from his position as vice president of basketball operations.
- On January 4, 1990, NBA veteran Dick Motta, the third-winningest head coach in NBA history, replaced Reynolds as the Kings head coach. Reynolds compiled a 56-114 (.330) record in three stints as Kings head coach.
- Kings guard Kenny Smith finished second to Atlanta's Dominique Wilkins in the Gatorade Slam Dunk contest during NBA All-Star Weekend in Miami. Smith's appearance marked only the second time since the club moved to Sacramento in 1985 a player represented the Kings in the All-Star festivities. (Terry Tyler in '86 slam dunk contest was the first).
- The Kings made NBA history at the 1990 NBA Draft (June 27, 1990), becoming the first team to select four first-round draft choices—LaSalle forward Lionel Simmons (#7 overall), Texas guard Travis Mays (#14 overall), Temple center Duane Causwell (#18 overall) and St. Louis forward Anthony Bonner (#23 overall).

Team Notes

- Kings posted a 28-54 record in 1993-94, a three-game improvement over the 1992-93 campaign (25-57).
- Sacramento finished ahead of the Los Angeles Clippers (27-55) in the Pacific Division standings, marking the first time since 1988-89 that the Kings did not finish at the bottom of their division.
- Guard Mitch Richmond became the first Kings player since Otis Birdsong in 1980-81 to earn All-NBA honors when he was voted to the second team. Richmond ranked seventh in the NBA in scoring (23.4 ppg) in the regular season, while also avearging 3.7 rpg, 4.0 apg, and 1.32 spg.
- Richmond also became the first Kings player since Nate Archibald in 1975 and the eighth in franchise history to start an NBA All-Star Game, tallying 10 points, two rebounds, and three assists in 24 minutes for the West squad in the 44th Annual affair in Minneapolis, MN.
- Kings were stricken by the injury bug throughout the season, losing 226 player games to injury or illness, the third highest total in the NBA in 1993-94 and the second most in the Sacramento-era. The rash of injuries forced Head Coach Garry St. Jean to utilize 20 different starting combinations over the course of the season.

Team Notes

- Kings registered a 39-43 regular-season record, marking the franchise's most victories in a season since 1982-83 (45-37). Sacramento finished fifth in the Pacific Division, and missed advancing to the NBA Playoffs by just one game after falling 102-89 at Denver (4/23/95) on the final day of the regular season in a winner-take-all battle for the eighth and final Western Conference Playoff berth.

- Guard Mitch Richmond earned Second-Team All-NBA honors after averaging 22.8 ppg, 4.4 rpg, 3.8 apg, and 1.11 spg. Richmond's 22.8 ppg led all guards in scoring and ranked eighth in the NBA.

- Richmond was named MVP of the 45th Annual All-Star Game in Phoenix, scoring a game-high 23 points (10-13 FG, 3-3 3pt, 0-0 FT) with four rebounds and two assists in only 22 minutes off the bench to lead the Western Conference to a 139-112 victory over the East. The 10-for-13 (.769) shooting performance is the third best in All-Star history.

- Forward Brian Grant was named to the NBA's First-Team All-Rookie squad, averaging 13.2 ppg (.511 FG%), 7.5 rpg, and 1.45 bpg. Grant earned Schick Rookie of the Month honors for January after averaging 15.8 ppg (.511 FG%), 9.7 rpg, and 2.13 bpg in helping lead the Kings to a 9-6 mark.

LES HARRISON — BASKETBALL PIONEER

The Sacramento Kings organization would like to pay tribute to the late Les Harrison who passed away in December of 1997 at the age of 93. As owner, general manager, and coach, Harrison was the driving force behind the Rochester Royals in the early days of the National Basketball League (NBL). In three seasons in the NBL, Harrison led the Royals to a 99-43 record, three NBL finals, and league titles in 1946 and 1947. With the signing of Dolly King in 1946, Harrison played a role in breaking the minority barrier in professional basketball. Following the 1948-49 season, in which the Royals played in the Basketball Association of America (BAA), Harrison led the effort to merge the NBL and BAA into the current National Basketball Association (NBA). Under Harrison's direction, the Royals won the franchise's lone NBA title in 1951, defeating the New York Knickerbockers 4-3 in the Finals. Harrison posted a .620 winning percentage (295-181) in seven NBA seasons, which ranks ninth all-time in the league entering this season. In a crowning achievement to his career, Harrison was elected to the Basketball Hall of Fame in 1979.

KINGS RETIRED JERSEYS

NATE ARCHIBALD

Nate "Tiny" Archibald played six of his 13 NBA seasons with the Kings franchise. Selected by the Cincinnati Royals in the second round of the 1970 NBA Draft, Archibald starred in six NBA All-Star Games. The 6-1, 180 guard posted his best season in 1972-73, averaging a career-best 34.0 ppg and 11.4 apg, becoming the only player in NBA history to lead the league in both scoring and assists. Archibald was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1991.

MITCH RICHMOND

Mitch Richmond became the first player in Sacramento-era history to have his jersey retired (December 5, 2003). Richmond ranks among the top five in franchise history in points, field goals made and attempted, free throws made and attempted, free throw percentage, steals, three-pointers made and attempted, and three-point field goal percentage. He became the first Sacramento King to be named to the All-Star Game, and earned the All-Star MVP award in 1995 after tallying 23 points in 22 minutes off the bench. Also while with Sacramento, Richmond represented the United States in the 1996 Olympics, winning a gold medal.

CHRIS WEBBER

One of the most talented forwards to ever don a Kings jersey, Chris Webber helped the Kings reach the NBA Playoffs in six straight seasons (1998-99 - 2003-04), earn two back-to-back Pacific Division titles (2001-02, 2002-03) and record a franchise record 61 regular season wins in 2001-02. Acquired from Washington in exchange for Mitch Richmond and Otis Thorpe on May 14, 1998, Webber recorded 51 points and 26 rebounds on January 5, 2001 versus Indiana, both Sacramento-era single-game records. As a King, Webber was a four-time NBA All-Star and a five-time All-NBA Team selection. He led Sacramento in scoring in six seasons and rebounding in six, including the 1998-99 season in which he led the NBA with a 13.0 average. Webber averaged 23.5 ppg, 10.6 rpg, 4.8 apg, 1.51 spg and 1.47 bpg in 377 games with Sacramento.

6TH MAN (THE FANS)

The No. 6 jersey was retired to acknowledge the support of the Kings fans. A sellout streak of 497 games still stands as the fourth-longest sellout streak in NBA history. The milestone streak began on opening night in 1985, the first season the Kings played in Sacramento, and ended after the second game of the 1997-98 season. Entering the 2006-07 campaign, the Kings have sold out 313 games, the longest active streak in the league.

BOBBY DAVIES

Bobby Davies, known as the Harrisburg Houdini, played all 10 of his NBA seasons with the Rochester Royals (1945-46 - 1954-55). His two free throws in the final 40 seconds of regulation broke a 75-75 tie in the seventh and deciding game of the 1951 NBA Finals against New York, helping to give the franchise its first and only NBA Championship. The four-time All-Star averaged 16.2 ppg, 2.9 rpg, and 6.0 apg in his best statisical season in 1951-52. A 6-1, 175 guard, Davies was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1969.

MAURICE STOKES

The 6-7, 240 forward played all three of his seasons for the franchise, playing his first two seasons with Rochester (1955-56 - 1956-57) and his last with Cincinnati (1957-58). In his first season, Stokes was named NBA Rookie of the Year and was named to the All-NBA Second Team after posting team-highs of 16.8 ppg (11th in NBA), 16.3 rpg (2nd in NBA), and 4.9 apg (9th in NBA). An All-Star in all three seasons, Stokes averaged 16.4 ppg, 17.3 rpg, and 5.3 apg in 202 career games. His brillant career was cut short when he was diagnosed with post-traumatic encephalopathy (brain injury damaging motor-control center) after a fall suffered three days earlier in a game against the Minneapolis Lakers (3/12/58).

OSCAR ROBERTSON

Known as the Big O, Oscar Robertson displayed an uncanny all-around game, finishing his 12-year NBA career with 25.7 ppg, 7.5 rpg, and 9.5 apg in 1,040 career games. He played 10 of his 14 NBA seasons with the Cincinnati Royals. His best season came in 1961-62 when the 6-5, 210 guard averaged a triple double - 30.8 ppg, 12.5 rpg, 11.4 apg. He averaged 30 or more points in six of his first seven seasons in the league and 10 or more assists in five of his first seven seasons. Robertson, who led the league in assists in six seasons, ranks among the NBA's all-time leaders in scoring (8th), assists (4th), and points (8th). The 12-time All Star was inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame in 1979.

VLADE DIVAC

Known for his craftiness on the court and his generosity off of it, Vlade Divac signed with the Kings as a free agent on January 22, 1999. Divac helped the Kings reach the NBA Playoffs in six straight seasons (1998-99 - 2003-04) while capturing two back-to-back Pacific Division titles (2001-02, 2002-03) and a franchise record 61 regular season wins in 2001-02. An All-Star in 2001, Divac played six of his 16 NBA seasons with the Kings, averaging 13.2 ppg, 7.8 rpg, 3.7 apg and 1.15 bpg in 454 games with Sacramento. He ranks among the top three in the Sacramento era in rebounds (3,538) and blocks (523). Divac joins Kareem Abdul-Jabbar and Hakeem Olajuwon as the only three players in NBA history to amass 13,000 points, 9,000 rebounds and 1,500 blocks in a career.

JACK TWYMAN

A 6-6 guard from Cincinnati, Jack Twyman played all 11 of his NBA seasons with the Kings franchise, two coming in Rochester (1955-56 and 1956-57) and the other nine seasons (1957-58 - 1965-66) with his hometown team. Twyman averaged 14 or more points in his first 10 seasons and averaged 31.2 ppg, 8.9 rpg, and 3.5 apg during the 1959-60 regular season. In 1958-59, Twyman ranked second in the league in scoring, posting a 25.8 scoring average. A GAME 7 THRILLER FOR THE NBA TITLE

The Sacramento Kings' lone franchise NBA World Championship came in 1951 when the then-Rochester Royals defeated the New York Knickerbockers in seven games. Following is the game story and box score of the Royals' thrilling 79-75 Game 7 victory over the Knickerbockers as it appeared in the New York Times.

By Leonard Koppett

ROCHESTER, N.Y., April 21 — Proving once again that free throws are more important than field goals, the Rochester Royals won the National Basketball Association championship before 4,200 spectators at the arena tonight by beating the New York Knickerbockers, 79 to 75, in the seventh game of the final play-off series. The Royals had won the first three games, the Knicks the next three.

Just how completely dependent Rochester's victory was on its foul line steadiness is clear in the chronology and statistics of the game. Bob Davies broke a 75-all tie with forty-four seconds to play when he sank two free throws after being fouled by Dick McGuire while driving to the basket; and in all, the Royals made twenty-nine out of thirty-seven free-throw attempts while New York sank only seventeen out of twenty-five. The Knicks had four more baskets, twenty-nine to twenty-five.

The fouls brought about New York's defeat in another way, too. Both its centers, Nat Clifton and Connie Simmons, fouled out in the last quarter, when the Knicks took the lead for the first time after trailing by as much as fourteen points in the first half. Meanwhile Arnie Risen, Rochester's center who took top-scoring honors with 24 points and scored the deciding basket before Davies made his free throws, committed his fourth foul twenty-two minutes before the game ended and played unpenalized the rest of the way.

Clifton, Simmons Foul Out

With Clifton and Simmons out, the Knicks were unable to control the jump balls that followed each foul in the last three minutes, so that their doom was really sealed when Risen made his last basket. New York was ahead, 74 to 72, when Simmons fouled out with two minutes left. Risen made the toss, then jumped against Ernie Vandeweghe and, when Rochester got possession, Arnie's hook shot put the Royals ahead, 75 to 74. Boryla tied it up a moment later but Rochester then froze the ball until Davies drove in.

Before the final minutes, the Knickerbockers' made another of their typical comebacks that marked their play all season long. The most "overtime" club in the league, they qualified for the final by coming from behind in their final game against Syracuse, and, after losing the first three to Rochester, trailed in each of the three games they won.

Tonight, trying to perform the ultimate in comebacks, they started by falling behind, 13 to 3. By the end of the first quarter they were up to 22 to 16, but a few minutes later Rochester led, 32 to 18. The Knicks battled back to within four points but trailed, 40 to 36, at halftime.

Knicks Finally Take Lead

In the third quarter they climbed to within three, then two, and were behind, 62 to 60, entering the last quarter. They finally achieved a 69-all tie midway through the period and took the lead for the first time, 71 to 70, with four minutes to go. Both times Gallatin converted under-the-basket feeds from McGuire.

McGuire added a foul half a minute later and the teams alternated free throws until Simmons fouled out against Risen. Rochester's final basket, with two seconds left, was a lay-up by Coleman after a successful freeze had settled matters.

Lou Eisenstein and Stan Stutz, the officials, charged the Knicks with thirty-two personals and the Royals with twenty-two. Splitting each team's total evenly between the two halves. Very few fouls were called against Rochester, however, in the play under the boards, where the Royals emerged with a 48-to-41 edge in rebounds. Clifton's fifth personal was particularly unfortunate for the Knicks, since it came while Rochester was holding the ball at mid-court. He was called for bumping Risen while moving into position. A minute and a half later he fouled out.

Coaches Voice No Complaints

No complaints were voiced about the officials, however, either by Knick coach, Joe Lapchick, or Rochester coach, Les Harrison, who, after Rochester's loss in New York Wednesday, found Eisenstein unsatisfactory and asked that he be replaced for tonight's game.

By their victory, the Royals earned $7,500 to add to their previous winnings and wound up with $13,250 in play-off money to divide up. The Knicks finished with $2,500 less and the satisfaction-disappointment of one of basketball's greatest near-misses.

COMMUNITY SERVICE

COMMUNITY SERVICE

The Sacramento Kings are dedicated to making a positive and meaningful difference in the lives of people in need and at risk in the Sacramento region. With reading and literacy as a central focus of giving, Maloof Sports & Entertainment has forged a strong working partnership with area school districts, after-school programs and other organizations that promote reading and literacy. In addition, Joe and Gavin Maloof were the inaugural winners of the World Sports Humanitarian Hall of Fame's Most Involved Executives for 2001 and the team's efforts were recognized with the 2004 Pro Team Humanitarian Award, which recognizes the franchise with the best community service program across all professional sports.

GEORGE J. MALOOF SR. COMMUNITY CUP

Introduced in 1999, the George J. Maloof Sr. Community Cup has resulted in more than $1 million in donations from the Maloof family to local charitable causes in the name of their father. Past Community Cup projects have included Kiwanis Family House, the Sacramento Local Conservation Corps., Cathedral Restoration Project, Airport Little League, Hemispheres After-School Arts Academy, the Sacramento Asian Sports Foundation, La Familia Counseling Center, St. Patrick's Home and School for Children, KVIE Public Television and last season's Capital Unity Council.

MALOOF SPORTS & ENTERTAINMENT COMMUNITY INITIATIVES:

PROMOTING READING AND LITERACY

Kings Read to Achieve

As part of the NBA's global community outreach initiative NBA Cares, the League's Read to Achieve program aims to combat global illiteracy and encourage young people to develop a life-long love of reading. The NBA Family wants kids to love to read and wants adults to love to read to kids. As a team, the Kings participate in reading timeouts at schools, community-based organizations and at Kings Reading and Learning Centers in hopes of encouraging a generation of children to read.

Kings Reading and Learning Centers

The Kings work hands-on in the community by refurbishing and building Kings Reading and Learning Centers. Locations may include, but are not limited to, school and public libraries, computer rooms and non-profit community centers. Volunteer Team Members from Maloof Sports & Entertainment work on rooms or buildings in need of upgrades for students to read and study.

Teacher Appreciation Program

The Sacramento Kings partner with Intel and the Sacramento County Office of Education to help recognize the top teachers in Sacramento County. The teachers identified as "Sacramento County Teachers of the Year" by SCOE are invited to a designated "Teacher Appreciation Night" Kings game where they are recognized on-court for their efforts in the classroom. This season's "Teacher Appreciation Night" is February 5, 2010.

CELEBRATING DIVERSITY AND CULTURAL AWARENESS

Cesar Chavez Day of Volunteerism

In order to recognize and honor Cesar Chavez for his lifelong contributions to humanity, Joe and Gavin Maloof decided to make the Cesar Chavez Holiday a DAY-ON instead of a day-off for their Team Members. More than 100 Maloof Sports & Entertainment Team Members volunteered in the Fifth Annual Cesar Chavez Day of Volunteerism.

Black History Month
Maloof Sports & Entertainment celebrates the rich history of African American culture during Black History Month. With assistance from key community organizations, this celebration is a chance to recognize community leaders and "unsung heroes" in the African American community as "Black History Month All-Stars." The "All-Stars" are presented with an award during an on-court presentation at a Kings home game.

OTHER INITIATIVES:
Kings for the Community
The "Kings for the Community" program was developed by Kings players and personnel as a way to give back to the community. Throughout the 2008-09 season, special groups and children from underserved communities in the area attended Kings home games courtesy of Kings players, Team President Geoff Petrie, Vice President Wayne Cooper and coaches. All special groups in attendance also had the opportunity to meet the player responsible for bringing them to the game in a special pre- or postgame meet and greet. Thousands of deserving local children and community members benefited from the program.

Jr. Kings
The Sacramento Kings recognize the youth of our community is the future of the NBA. With that in mind, we developed the Jr. Kings program. The Jr. Kings program provides an opportunity for teams and groups of kids (18 and under) to attend a Sacramento Kings game this season and receive a number of other exciting benefits! The Jr. Kings program is a great way for youngsters in the Sacramento region to unite and interact with the Kings.

Kings Women's Organization
Founded in 1993, the Kings Women's Organization helps facilitate the team's efforts through support of community outreach programs, awareness campaigns and fundraising events focusing on women and children in need in the Sacramento region. Members are comprised of wives, female relatives and significant others of the Kings players, coaches, medical and media staff. The Kings Women's Organization joins together with players, Maloof Sports & Entertainment Team Member volunteers and other groups to make a positive impact in the community.

Season of Giving
Each holiday season, Maloof Sports & Entertainment spreads holiday cheer throughout the Sacramento community through its "Season of Giving" initiative. This season will mark the Eighth Annual Season of Giving, which consists of Kings and Monarchs players, members of the Sacramento Kings Dance Team, Slamson and volunteers from Maloof Sports & Entertainment participating in charitable giving and holiday fun benefiting children and families throughout the region.

St. Hope Academy
Former NBA player, Sacramento native and current Sacramento Mayor Kevin Johnson founded the St. HOPE Academy in his childhood neighborhood of Oak Park to instill the life lessons taught to him by his grandparents. Because of Mayor Johnson's dedication to Oak Park and the shared vision with Maloof Sports & Entertainment to make a difference to at-risk and in-need families in Sacramento, Joe and Gavin Maloof announced a 10-year commitment to support his efforts in Oak Park during the 2001-02 season. A total of $500,000 will be donated by Maloof Sports & Entertainment to support Mayor Johnson's project for the children in Oak Park.

NBA CARES

NBA Cares is the league's global community outreach initiative that addresses important social issues such as education, youth and family development, and health and wellness. The NBA, its teams, and players support a range of programs, partners, and initiatives that strive to positively impact children and families worldwide.

As part of the league's mission to demonstrate leadership in social responsibility, NBA Cares reaches communities through philanthropy, hands-on service, and legacy projects. Since the program's October 2005 launch, the league, players, and teams have raised more than $110 million for charity, provided more than one million hours of hands-on service, and built more than 425 places where kids and families can live, learn, or play in communities around the world.

NBA Cares reaches millions of children and adults through special programs like NBA FIT and Basketball without Borders. The league and its teams and players also promote environmental awareness and sustainability through NBA Green. During high-profile league events like NBA All-Star and The Finals, community outreach efforts use the power of sport to effect positive social change.

Thanks to strong partnerships with internationally recognized community organizations such as Make-A-Wish, UNICEF, KaBOOM!, Habitat for Humanity, Boys & Girls Clubs of America, Hands On Network, Special Olympics, the Global Business Coalition on HIV/AIDS, Tuberculosis and Malaria, and the UN Foundation, NBA Cares works to improve communities in need around the world.

ARCO ARENA — HOME OF THE KINGS

A sold out crowd of 10,333 witnessed the Kings' debut in Sacramento at ARCO Arena I on October 25, 1985. After three seasons in the temporary facility, the Kings played their first basketball game at the permanent ARCO Arena facility on November 8, 1988 before a then-capacity crowd of 17,014. The fans have continued to flock to ARCO Arena, which now seats 17,317 for basketball. In fact, over a 13-season stretch from 1985-86 to 1997-98 the Kings hosted an NBA-leading 497 consecutive sellouts at ARCO Arena.

Conveniently located near the intersection of I-5 and I-80, ARCO Arena is only five minutes from downtown Sacramento and 90 miles from the San Francisco Bay area.

There are approximately 3,900 trees and over 8,000 shrubs on the 105 acres surrounding ARCO Arena with parking for up to 12,000 vehicles in the fully-lighted parking lot. Among the indoor amenities are concession stands throughout, featuring 80 service lines, four lounges overlooking the arena interior, eight locker rooms, 297 public toilets, and 24-hour security.

ARCO Arena adds to the local economy by employing as many as 1,200 full- and part-time workers during the basketball season. Arena patrons have come to the events hungry, consuming 5,000 gallons of soda and 170,000 hot dogs in just one year!

One of the busiest buildings of its kind in the United States, ARCO Arena hosts nearly 200 events and two million spectators annually. The facility has been home to numerous premier concert events, including nine sellout shows by country music superstar, Garth Brooks, who has attracted over 144,000 fans to his ARCO Arena concerts. Other top acts that have played ARCO Arena have included Paul McCartney, Eric Clapton, Pearl Jam, Elton John, Prince, Reba McEntire, and the Rolling Stones. In addition, more than 170,000 people attended the five-day Billy Graham Crusade in October of 1995 in the Crusade's only United States stop.

Other highlighted events at ARCO Arena have included the Ringling Bros. & Barnum and Bailey Circus, NHL Hockey, Arena Football, and the 1994, 1998, 2002, and 2007 First and Second Round Western Regional NCAA Men's Division I Basketball Tournaments. The versatile facility has hosted monster trucks, professional wrestling, and ice shows featuring the world's finest figure skaters. Two years ago, ARCO Arena hosted the 2007 NCAA Women's Division I Volleyball Championships.

ARCO Arena also is home to the Sacramento Monarchs of the Women's National Basketball Association. Having just finished their 13th season, the Monarchs continue to be a model franchise having produced record crowds and playing in back-to-back WNBA Finals (2005, 2006). The Monarchs won the WNBA Championship in 2005. On June 1, 2002, the Monarchs opened their regular season with the first sellout in team history.

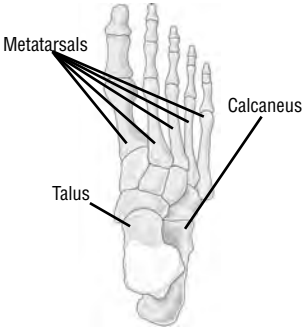
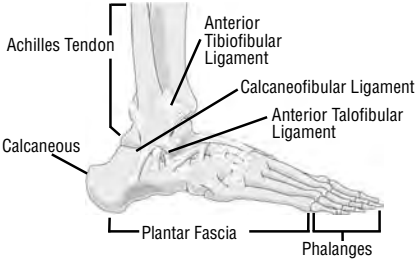
Anterior Talofibular Ligament. A ligament of the ankle that connects the fibula (lateral ankle bone) to the talus. This ligament is often subject to sprain.

Anterior Tibiofibular Ligament. Restrains inversion of calcaneous.

Calcaneofibular Ligament. The ligament that connects the fibula to the calcaneous.





Calcaneous. The heel bone.

Deltoid Ligament. Ligament that connects the tibia to bones of the medial aspect of the foot. It is primarily responsible for stability of the ankle on the medial side and is sprained less frequently than other ankle ligaments.

Hammer Toe. Condition when the first digit of a toe is at a different angle than the remaining digits of the same toe. Common among basketball players as a result of improper shoe length.

Medial Malleolus. A protuberance on the inside of the ankle.

Metatarsals. Five long bones of the foot, running from the ankle to the toes.

Morton's Toe. Condition in which the second toe is longer than the first toe. This can cause mechanical imbalances, which produce pain within weight-bearing bones.

Peroneal Muscles. Group of muscles in the lateral lower leg that is responsible for everting the ankle. Tendons of these three muscles are also vital to the stability of the ankle and foot.

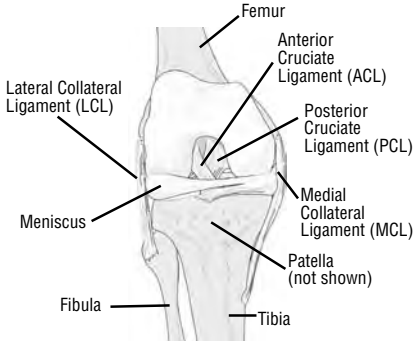
Plantar Fasciitis. Inflammation of the plantar fascia; associated with overuse or acute foot injuries.

Soft Corn. A corn (softened by moisture) that is found beneath the upper surface of the toe.

Stress X-Ray. A continual X-ray taken when a portion of the body is stressed in order to determine joint stability.

Tarsals. Group of seven bones of the foot, consisting of the calcaneous, navicular, talus, cuboid and the three cuneiform bones.

Fast Facts
•NBTA records indicate that the most common injury suffered by NBA players is a sprained ankle.
•Most ankle sprains occur when one player steps on another player's foot.
•More than 90 percent of all ankle sprains involve the lateral aspect of the ankle.
•Three ankle sprains are sustained for every 10 regular season games played in the NBA.
•NBTA records indicate that players older than 30 are seven times more likely to tear the achilles tendon than those younger than 30.



KNEE

Anterior Cruciate Ligament (ACL). A primary stabilizing ligament within the center of the knee joint that prevents hyperextension and excessive rotation of the joint.

Baker's Cyst. Localized swelling of a bursa sac in the posterior knee. A Baker's Cyst indicates that there is trauma inside the knee joint.

Chondromalacia. Roughening of the articular cartilage. Best known for roughening on the underside of the patella, which can occur in any patellofemoral injury.

Derotation Brace. A customized knee brace worn by players with a history of rotational instability of the knee.

Femur. Thighbone; longest bone in the body.

Fibula. Smaller of the two bones in the lower leg; it runs from the knee to the ankle along the outside of the lower leg.

Hamstring. Group of muscles that run from the buttocks to the knee along the back of the thigh. The hamstring muscles work to flex the knee and extend the hip and are often injured as a result of improper conditioning or lack of flexibility.

Iliotibial Band. A thick, wide fascial layer that runs from the iliac crest to the knee joint that is occasionally inflamed as a result of excessive running.

Jumper's Knee. Inflammation of the patellar ligament associated with overuse of the knee from jumping and running.

Lateral Collateral Ligament. Ligament on the lateral aspect of the knee that connects the femur to the fibula and provides lateral stability to the joint.

Medial Collateral Ligament. Ligament on the medial aspect of the knee that connects the femur to the tibia and provides medial stability to the joint.

Meniscectomy. An intra-articular surgical procedure of the knee by which all or part of the damaged meniscus is removed.

Meniscus. Crescent-shaped cartilage located within the knee that works to absorb weight and provide stability.

Patella. The kneecap. The patella functions to protect the distal end of the femur as well as to increase the mechanical advantage and force-generating capacities of the quadriceps muscle group.

Patella Tendinitis. Inflammation of the patellar ligament; also know as jumper's knee.

Patellofemoral Joint. Articulation of the kneecap and femur. Inflammation of this joint can lead to chondromalacia and is caused by an acute injury to the patella, excessive running, chronic wear and tear of the knee or poor foot mechanics.

Q-Angle. Normal angle of quadriceps relative to the patella. The normal angle for males is 10 degrees.

Tibia. Larger of the two bones of the lower leg and the weight-bearing bone of the shin; it runs medially to the fibula.

Fast Facts
•NBTA records indicate that during the course of a regular season, more playing time will be lost because of inflammation of the knee, patella and patellar tendon, than from any other injury.
